Important Notices:

1. The treatment visits under the Automobile Insurance Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols Regulations are intended to be free of any financial barriers that might limit patients seeking early, appropriate treatment for their injuries. “Extra” (or balance) billing practices pose a financial barrier as well as stress to a patient, therefore practitioners may not extra-bill. This prohibition is derived from section 8(1) of the Automobile Insurance Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols Regulations.
2. Further limits on fees that may be charged under the Automobile Insurance Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols Regulations relating to necessary supplies and services, diagnostic imaging services and providing copies of health records are currently under consideration and may be established at a later point in time.

All descriptions of services, activities and functions in this Bulletin are premised on the rules, criteria and descriptions which currently exist under the Automobile Insurance Diagnostic and Treatment Protocol Regulations under the Insurance Act (Nova Scotia), which are subject to amendment from time to time.

This document explains the maximum fees and disbursements payable for services, activities and functions provided under the Regulations, but all legal rights and obligations under the Regulations (other than the amount payable which are authorized to be set out in this Bulletin under the Regulations) are described in the Regulations, and the final determination of whether a service, activity or function is authorized is determined by the Regulations.

⁴ A Progress Report should only be prepared at the request of an insurer. Progress reports that are prepared in the absence of such a request are not required to be reimbursed.
