

Five-Year Highway Improvement Plan 2026-27

Introduction

The 2026–27 Five-Year Highway Improvement Plan outlines the province’s approach to building, maintaining, and renewing Nova Scotia’s transportation network. The system includes more than 23,000 kilometres of roads and highways and approximately 4,100 bridges, forming one of the most extensive public infrastructure portfolios in Atlantic Canada.

Each year, the plan identifies major construction projects, repaving programs, bridge replacements, capital maintenance, and other improvements scheduled over the next five years. Publishing these commitments in a multi-year format gives industry partners the certainty they need to plan investments, while keeping Nova Scotians informed about the upgrades taking place in their communities.

In the upcoming fiscal year, the province will advance more than 160 highway improvement projects. Funding for this work is supported through provincial capital allocations, along with contributions from federal programs and municipalities on cost-shared initiatives.

Approximately 35 per cent, or more than 8,400 kilometres, of Nova Scotia’s provincial roads are gravel. This program focuses on rebuilding and strengthening these routes in rural areas, improving drainage, structure, and long-term durability. This is a proactive approach — fixing underlying problems before they become expensive failures — with the goal of safer roads, fewer maintenance issues, and better year-round reliability.

Bridges are essential links in the provincial transportation network, with more than 4,100 structures requiring ongoing attention. The Bridge Program emphasizes replacing aging structures, rehabilitating those that can be extended, and addressing safety risks before they escalate. The Bridge Program is forward-looking and preventive: investing early to enhance safety, reduce future disruptions, and maintain reliable connections for communities and trade.

Climate Resilience and Adaptation

The transportation network continues to face increasing pressure from severe weather events, storm surges, and changing environmental conditions. These impacts have demonstrated the importance of designing and maintaining infrastructure that can withstand future climate realities.

The plan incorporates a climate-resilient approach by prioritizing stronger structures, improved drainage systems, proactive maintenance, and modern engineering standards that reduce long-term vulnerability. This ensures public dollars are invested in infrastructure that lasts — not infrastructure that washes out with the next storm.

Economic Impact

Nova Scotia's highway system is a core driver of economic activity, supporting the movement of goods, access to services, and the mobility needs of residents and businesses. The provincial road-building industry employs more than 6,000 people directly and 3,000 indirectly annually.

The 2026–27 capital program represents an investment of approximately $465M, supporting jobs across construction, engineering, materials supply, and equipment operations. These investments strengthen regional economies, improve trade corridors, and support long-term economic growth.

Interprovincial and Regional Co-operation

Nova Scotia continues to work collaboratively with provincial and territorial partners to advance shared transportation priorities. This includes co-operation through Atlantic transportation committees, participation in national strategic infrastructure discussions, and alignment with interprovincial standards for design and safety.

Strengthening these relationships ensures consistent approaches to corridor planning, enhances trade and mobility across regional boundaries, and supports collective efforts to build resilient and efficient transportation systems.

Link Nova Scotia

Link Nova Scotia, formerly the Joint Regional Transportation Agency, is a provincial Crown corporation tasked with long-range strategic transportation planning across Nova Scotia. Reporting to the Minister of Public Works, the agency works closely with partners in government and local organizations to align transportation planning with land use and strategic infrastructure investment to improve travel, manage congestion, and enhance goods movement.

In August 2025, the province released Link Nova Scotia's Regional Transportation Plan (RTP), as well as government's response to the plan's recommended actions. Since then, the agency has initiated several of the long-term projects proposed in the RTP, while simultaneously coordinating with partners on short-term initiatives to help manage congestion over the next 18 to 24 months.

Link Nova Scotia has a strong partnership with Public Works, and, currently, the two entities are collaborating on the following key priorities:

- Upgrading and expanding Highway 102 between Exit 0 and 4 to increase capacity to move people, support rapid transit service, and improve goods movement.
- Developing a strategic connector between Hammonds Plans Road near Sandy Lake and Exit 2 on Highway 101.
- Exploring future road corridors to advance multi-modal connections to support growth areas.

How Capital Funding Is Invested

Capital funding is separated into two major groups: Planned Investments and Major Construction Projects.

Breakdown of Planned Investments:

Approximately $267.5M will be allocated in fiscal year 2026–27 to support design activities, road improvements, bridge rehabilitation, land, equipment acquisition, and ferry services.

- Asphalt and Resurfacing – $161M
- Gravel Road Program – $27.5M
- Bridge Replacement/Rehabilitation – $60M
- Land Purchases – $7M
- Equipment, Machinery, Ferries – $7M
- Highway Design, Surveys – $5M

Major Construction Expenditures for New Highways and Bridges:

The following major projects are in the planning phase:

Highway 102 Capacity Upgrades:

Public Works, in partnership with Link Nova Scotia, is advancing early planning and design activities for the expansion and modernization of the Highway 102 corridor between Bayers Road and Exit 4C—a critical initiative supporting population and housing growth, economic development, and improved regional mobility.

Early planning activities are already underway, including traffic assessments and data collection, environmental studies and investigations, and surveys of the corridor to inform subsequent evaluation and design efforts.

A request for proposal is in progress to engage a consultant to identify future corridor requirements and produce a functional (30 per cent) design for the approximately 20 km corridor between Exit 0 (Bayers Road) and Exit 4C (Lower Sackville/Bedford).

Hammonds Plains Road to Highway 101 (Exit 2) Connector:

Public Works is advancing early planning for a new four-lane, 5.5 km corridor linking Hammonds Plains Road near Sandy Lake to Exit 2 on Highway 101. The project is intended to improve regional mobility, support significant planned housing growth, and create a more direct connection between Hammonds Plains, Bedford, and Highway 101. The proposed alignment would extend Larry Uteck Boulevard to the Beaver Bank Connector and require a major crossing of the Sackville River, passing through the Sandy Lake Area.

The corridor is being designed to improve vehicle capacity while supporting public transit and active transportation as part of a more integrated regional mobility network. Early planning activities underway include environmental and geotechnical studies, transportation analysis, and corridor surveying to inform future design and evaluation work.

The following major projects are in the construction phase:

Construction will continue on several major highway projects in the upcoming construction season, including twinning, interchange improvements, and strategic corridor upgrades across the province. These ongoing projects will advance regional connectivity, improve safety, and support growing transportation needs as work progresses through 2026–27.
